Nursing Homes Control

Senate Committee Gives Speedy Okay To Bill Providing Strict Regulation

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Speedy approval was given last night by a Senate committee to a bill providing more strict regulation of Missouri's nursing homes.

The public health and welfare committee acted after Gov. James T. Blair personally told members something must be done to prevent another tragedy like the one at Warrenton, Mo. Over 70 persons died in a nursing home fire there Sunday.

The committee tacked an emergency clause on the bill, making it effective upon passage by both houses and signing by the governor.

There are an estimated 13,300 persons in more than 600 homes, with only 7,617 of them in state-licensed homes.

"Financially, you know as well as I that the state cannot embark on a program of taking care of 14,000 people," Blair told the committee. "This is the first thing to put the health division in a position to properly police and inspect these homes."

If more money is necessary to hire more inspectors, the governor said he would back up from his announced plan not to start any new governmental programs.

"We must not hold back on account of dollars," he said. "Human lives are more important than dollars."

Blair said the bill by Sen. Albert H. Spradling (D) of Cape Girardeau would be a tremendous improvement over the present inadequate law, but might have to have more teeth put in later.

It gives the State Division of Health broader power to regulate health and safety conditions in nursing homes. Operation without a license or in violation of health division standards would be a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of $25 to $100, with each day's violation a new offense.

Prosecuting attorneys have sometimes ignored state efforts to close undesirable homes under the present law. The Spradling bill would permit the attorney general to get injunctions to close illegally operating homes if a local prosecutor failed to act.

Hennings Will Oppose Civil Rights Hearings

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Hennings (D-Mo.) said today he will oppose any move by Southern foes of a civil rights bill to force more public hearings by the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Hennings said his Civil Rights subcommittee's decision yesterday to wind up March 5 the public hearings it now has under way was "a great victory" for those who want such legislation.

He said that if the move to force more hearings by its parent Judiciary Committee materializes "we'll put that to a vote too" and that he believes it would be rejected. He said further hearings would be a waste of time.

Hennings announced he will ask the subcommittee to "move right along" in drafting an omnibus civil rights bill once the hearings end.

Senators Ervin (D-NC) and Olin D. Johnston (D-SC), who voted against the cutoff have indicated they may appeal to the full committee for additional hearings.

Ervin said the deadline had been voted to be used as "a club over the head" of opponents of civil rights proposals.

Hennings said the subcommittee plans to work out a bill to embrace not only the administration's four-point program but some even legislative measure which would allow non-lawyers to run for magistrate and probate judgeships in third and fourth class counties. It

Temperatures to Drop Over State Tonight

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Temperatures edged downward in Missouri last night and rain fell in southern counties.

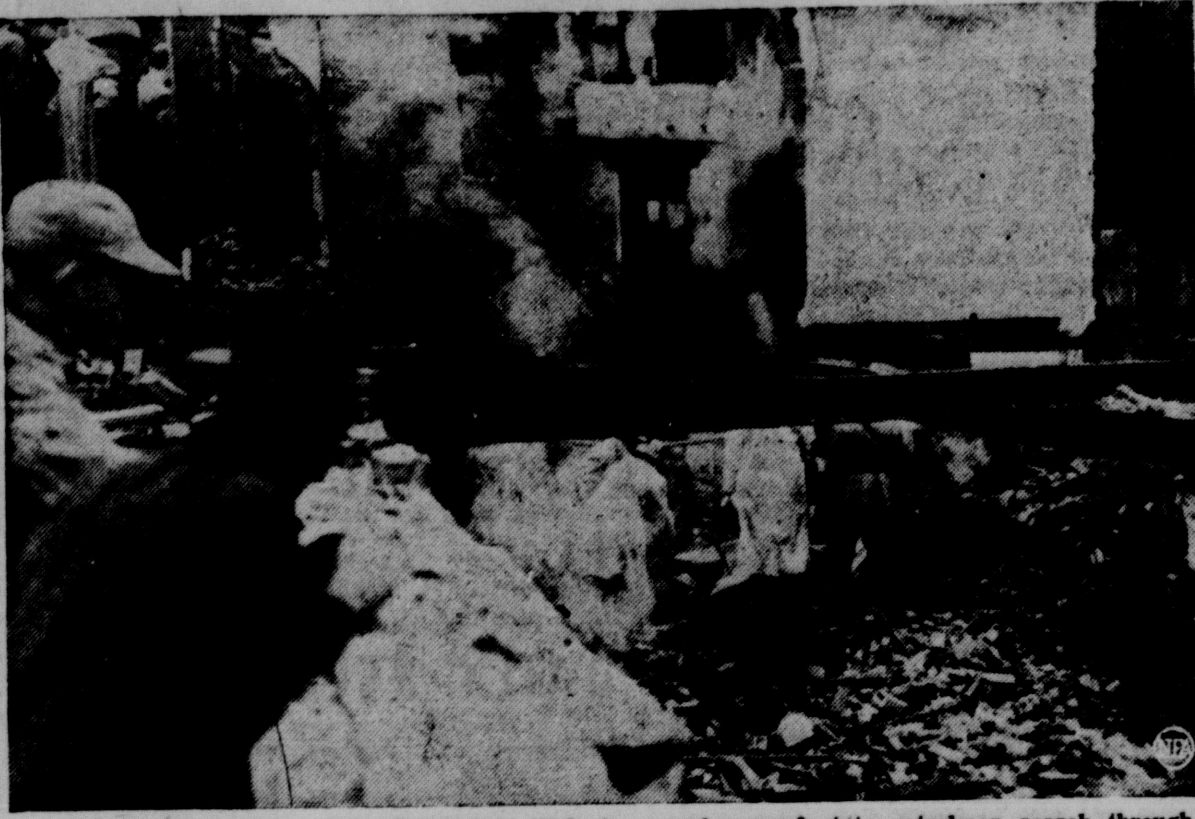

It was the onset of a moderately colder period in the state.

The Weather Bureau said it will be mostly cloudy with snow in the south tonight and tomorrow, and colder over the state tonight. Lows tonight will be 10-15 in the north and in the 20s in the south.

Tomorrow's maximum temperatures are expected to stay down near the freezing mark.

Speech Aimed Abroad

Khrushchev Emphasizes No Change In Foreign Policy

MOSCOW (AP)—Nikita S. Khrushchev went out of his way last night to emphasize that last week's change of foreign ministers does not mean a change in Soviet foreign policy.

Seizing a microphone at a Russian-Bulgarian party, the Soviet Communist party boss launched into a speech apparently aimed at observers abroad.

"Our foreign policy does not depend on any one individual," he said.

He went on to expound the continuity of Soviet policy.

Andrei Gromyko had replaced Dmitri Shepilov as foreign minister Friday, three days after Shepilov outlined the government's foreign policy outlook to the Supreme Soviet (Parliament).

Although Moscow radio later announced that Shepilov's address still stood, observers here had come to the view that career diplomat Gromyko was being counted on for a tougher era of international negotiations.

They felt Shepilov, former editor of Pravda, had proved himself inept in the tough arena of international politics during his eight months as foreign minister.

Khrushchev told the guests at the reception:

"Our former minister of foreign affairs, Shepilov, defended our interests. Gromyko will carry out these policies. . . Shepilov stated our case very well in his address to the Supreme Soviet. . . We stand by what he said."

Once again Khrushchev praised Stalin and said the Soviet people would not abandon their late leader.

The reception was for a visiting Bulgarian government and Communist party delegation which is expected to sign another of the series of East European unity and friendship pacts with the Soviets tomorrow.

Premier Anton Yugov, head of the delegation, started some diplomats at a Kremlin luncheon by linking Yugoslavia with "the enemies of socialism."

In a speech expressing his country's solidarity with the Soviet Union, Yugov said some Yugoslav papers expressed disappointment that Bulgaria had no uprising like Hungary's.

Describes Customs There

Tells 4-H, Extension Clubs of Trip to India

Miss Marilyn Anderson, Harrisville, was the featured speaker before a group of 4-H and extension club families last night at the courthouse for a special International Farm Youth Exchange program.

Miss Anderson, who was apprentice home agent in Pettis County in 1955, recently returned as an IFYE delegate to India. She was one of ten delegates from the United States who each lives in different sections of India for three to six months.

While Miss Anderson was there she lived in six different homes, living as the Indians did and working right out on the farms with them.

Miss Anderson pointed out that they have many customs that are different from ours in the United States. They sit on the floor to eat, eat with their right hand only, as their left hand is supposed to be contaminated, and use water buffalo milk to drink, which is 12 percent butterfat. The milk is boiled until it is thick and sugar is added to it. While there she stressed the use of milk.

The bride and groom there do not see each other until they are married, as the parents choose their children's mates.

Everything is done by hand, such as the women washing their clothes by beating them with a paddle and the men cutting all their grain with a hand sickle. One of her host families did have a tractor. Recently, agricultural extension work has been set up so that they are now growing some hybrid corn there. New varieties are hard to get introduced there, as the farmers have such a small tract of land to make a living from that they are afraid to take a chance on growing

Escape Hurts In Car, House Trailer Crash

Mr. and Mrs. George Scism, and their one-year old son, of Bloomfield, Mo., escaped injury about 5:30 p. m. Monday when their house trailer and car left the highway one mile south of the Cole Camp Junction of Highways 65 and 52. A large transport tractor-trailer which figured in the accident was slightly damaged and its driver James L. Cunningham, 45, Aurora, Mo., escaped injury.

Scism, 22, was headed south on Highway 65 driving his new 1957 DeSoto four-door hardtop, pulling behind it a 1956 Rollahome house trailer. His wife was riding in the front seat with him and their son was sleeping in the back seat of the car.

The 1957 GMC tractor-trailer, driven by Cunningham, was also headed south and started to pass Scism. Cunningham said the house trailer whipped and caught his unit.

The DeSoto and house trailer went to the right and off the right shoulder and as the trailer went into a twist it fortunately broke loose from the trailer hitch on the DeSoto. The trailer went over and stopped on its top. The DeSoto went sideways and rolled on the shoulder and embankment.

The right front fender of the GMC was damaged and the unit scraped along the right side. The front end of the DeSoto was damaged where the front bumper caught the right fender of the tractor, and the back end of the DeSoto was also damaged, possibly from the house trailer as it jerked away.

Trooper Pete Stohr of the Missouri Highway Patrol investigated the accident and estimated the damage to the house trailer at approximately $5,000, and more than $500 to the automobile, while damage to the tractor-trailer was estimated at over $100.

Contents of the trailer were scattered over the interior, the refrigerator jerked loose and demolished, and other contents demolished. It had to be unloaded before the unit could be righted and pulled back to the highway.

The Davis wrecker at Lincoln towed the unit to Lincoln.

The Scism family was enroute from Columbia, Mo., to Santa Monica, Calif. He had purchased the new car recently and it had registered less than 1,000 miles.

The tractor-trailer unit was owned by the Spring Creek Milling Co., and was enroute to Crane, Mo.

Stiff Competition

Bergman, Dean Nominated For 29th Academy Awards

By JIM BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Ingrid Bergman, Hollywood's most famous exile, and James Dean, only person ever nominated twice in death, were rated today as the actress and actor to beat in the movie's annual race for Oscars.

And the movie "Giant" took a favored spot in the best film category as the smoke cleared from last night's announcement of the 29th annual Academy Award nominations.

Miss Bergman, absent eight years from the town where she gained her greatest fame; will have stiff competition in the top actress division from the following:

Carroll Baker of the controversial "Baby Doll"; Katharine Hepburn for "The Rainmaker"; Nancy Kelly for "The Bad Seed"; and Deborah Kerr for "The King and I."

Miss Bergman was nominated for her sensitive portrayal of the Russian princess in "Anastasia." Dean, nominated last year for the brooding adolescent of "East of Eden," got it this year for his first role as an adult—that of the millionaire oil wildcatter in "Giant."

He likewise will have exceptionally stiff opposition in Yul Brynner ("King and I"); Kirk Douglas ("Lust for Life"); Rock Hudson ("Giant") and Sir Laurence Olivier ("Richard III").

Dean's role in "Giant" was completed only days before his tragic death in an auto crash.

Others in the best movie category—where an Oscar win means millions more at the box office—were "Around the World in 80 Days"; "Friendly Persuasion"; "The King and I"; and Cecil B. De Mille's "The Ten Commandments."

The nominations contained few surprises, save perhaps for the Moses of "The Ten Commandments."

The nomination of Nancy Kelly was seen as a moral victory of sorts for the noted Broadway actress. She had not made a movie in 10 years until "The Bad Seed."

Once a contract player here, her talents had been wasted in a long succession of B movies.

Nominated for best supporting actor were Don Murray ("Bus Stop"); Anthony Quinn ("Lust for Life"); Eileen Heckart ("The Bad Seed"); Mercedes McCambridge ("Giant"); Dorothy Malone ("Written on the Wind") and child actress Patty McCormack ("The Bad Seed").

Best supporting actress nominees were Mildred Dunnock ("Baby Doll"); Eileen Heckart ("The Bad Seed"); Mercedes McCambridge ("Giant"); Dorothy Malone ("Written on the Wind") and child actress Patty McCormack ("The Bad Seed").

The winners will be announced March 27 in a nationwide telecast.

Woman Receives Suspended Term

CHICAGO (AP)—Mrs. Storm J. Cooper, 40, formerly of Joplin, Mo., described by a federal judge as "sinned against as much as she sinned," today was given a three-year suspended sentence for slaying her daughter in a dentist's office.

Judge Michael L. Igoe of U. S. District Court placed Mrs. Cooper on three years probation after she pleaded guilty to a charge of manslaughter, reduced from murder.

Signs Special Election Bill

Governor Will Decide Later If April 2 Is Voting Date

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Gov. James T. Blair signed into law today a bill aimed at permitting an April special election on a legislative pay increase.

It was the first bill passed by the 1957 Legislature and was powered through both houses in near record time, moving from introduction to signing in just 13 days.

The governor said he would decide later today whether to call a special election April 2—the day of city elections throughout the state.

He did not indicate what his decision would be but has said he thought a legislative pay increase would be desirable and the people should have a chance to vote on it.

The bill signed today makes it possible for the secretary of state to certify a special election ballot to county clerks and election boards 30 days before the election date, instead of requiring a 70-day lapse like the old law.

If an election is called, the voters would be asked to decide whether legislative pay should be increased from $125 a month the year around, with round trip mileage to the Capitol once a session, to $300 a month with weekly round trip mileage.

That proposed constitutional amendment also was rushed through both houses in near record time.

Will Davis, chief clerk in the secretary of state's office, said Atty. Gen. John M. Dalton already has been asked to prepare a ballot title describing the proposal. Davis said he saw no reason why the election preparations could not be completed by March 2 to comply with the new law if a special election is set for April 2.

The bill signed by the governor today, one day after it reached his office, was sponsored by Sens. George A. Spencer (D) of Columbia, Floyd R. Gibson (D) of Independence, John W. Noble (D) of Kennett, Hartwell G. Crain (R) of St. Louis County and Jack S. Curtis (R) of Springfield.

Disputes Stop Back-to-Work Move at Docks

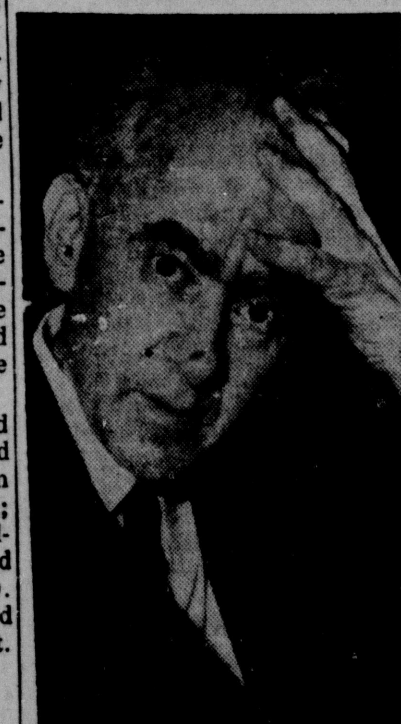

NEW YORK (AP)—Forty-five thousand striking dockworkers from Maine to Virginia remained idle today as disputes over contracts in Baltimore and Norfolk prevented a general back-to-work movement.

Union spokesmen were unable to predict an end to the costly pier tieup, now in its seventh day. The port-to-port situation was confused.

William V. Bradley, president of the International Longshoremen's Assn., appeared determined to withhold any general work resumption until contract agreements were reached in all ports from Portland, Maine, to Hampton Roads, Va.

Last night Bradley made a return to work today conditional on settlement of local contracts in Philadelphia, Baltimore and Norfolk by last midnight.

Purchase Of Bonds Approved

City Also Prepares To Request Bids On Water Bonds

By D. Kelly Scruton

General obligation bonds of $300,000 for expanding Bothwell Hospital were sold Monday night at the City Council meeting to the Stern Brothers Co., of Kansas City.

The Kansas City firm had bid an interest rate of 3 per cent, and for the 20 years the average interest cost to the City of Sedalia would be 2.99428 per cent per year. Selling of the bonds now clears the way for the Bothwell Hospital board to take action for construction of the new addition.

With an optimistic outlook on the water bond election, Councilman C. L. Kelley made a motion to authorize the city clerk to advertise for bids on the $2,700,000 general revenue bonds to purchase the Sedalia Water Co., with the return of the bids to be on Monday, March 18. The motion was unanimously adopted by the Council.

Councilman Kelley explained that the motion was in effect for the advertising only if the people of Sedalia vote the necessary majority at the Tuesday election to buy the water company.

He explained after the council meeting, "I made this motion for the purpose of being able to take action as quickly as possible. If we waited until the election has been held and should it carry, then there would be an unnecessary two-weeks delay in getting the project in order. By doing it this way, we gain two weeks and can go into the project within next month should Sedalia decide the proposition is a good one and so vote that way."

Mayor J. H. Bagby called attention that seven bonding companies had sealed bids to be opened on the $300,000 hospital obligation bonds. He announced C. L. Hanley, of the Third National Bank, Herbert Mason, of the Union Savings Bank, and John J. McGrath, Sedalia Bank and Trust Co., analyzed the bids after they had been opened and read in open council.

After checking the bids, the committee reported back to the Council and announced they felt the Stern Brothers Co. had the best bid. The Council then took the action of approving the committee report and voted to sell the bonds to the Kansas City firm.

One ordinance was given final passage, that of rezoning property between North Osage and Highway 65 and north of North Broadway from light to heavy manufacturing.

Two ordinances were introduced and read for the first time. One (Please turn to page 2, column 6)

S-C Students Sing Before Rotary Club

Students of the Smith-Cotton Music Department presented the program Monday at the Rotary Club noon meeting at Bothwell Hotel.

James Franks, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Carl G. Schrader, music director. The program began with a group of numbers by the Boy's Glee Club, and the songs selected were "America Our Heritage," "Rock-a-My-Soul," "Roadways" and "Old Ark's A-Moverin'."

A Senior Girls Sextette composed of Nan Ferguson, Barbara Mabry, Sandra Mahnen, Beverly Fawner, Pat Moore and Kay Caraway, sang "Pop Corn Carnival," after which Barbara Mabry and Ken Williams sang a duet, "Will You Remember."

"Who's That Tapping At My Door" was sung by a boys quartette composed of Clifford Robinson, Harry Satterwhite, Charles Robinson and Ken Williams.

The program closed with three songs by the mixed chorus, "Where in the World But in America," "Salutation to the Dawn" and "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

The meeting was presided over by the Rev. Thomas W. Croxton, president, and singing was led by Aubrey Case, with Miss Lillian Fox at the piano.

Visitors introduced by Henry W. Harris were the Rev. Harry Purviance, new minister of the First Christian Church, guest of Jess Brown; and Junior Rotarians Van Dyne and Charles Newman, guests of the club.

A sum of $200 was allocated to the Little League Ball Club. It was decided to continue the State Fair Bowl, with Porter Robb as chairman and Jack Cunningham as associate.

The committee on the revision of the by-laws, Lawrence Barnett, Del Heckart, W. E. Hurlbut, Jr., Ray Lippard and D. S. Lamn, chairman, presented its report and the recommendation was adopted.

Roving Rotarians were: Harry Naugel, Kansas City; O. W. Wiley, Clinton; Lloyd R. Greenwald, Sarasota, Fla.; Ray Lippard, Warrensburg; and Dick Snow, Lexington.

Hotel Managers Starts Club for Fathers Who Take Families Out

Curt Weaver, vice president and manager of Hotel Bothwell, has started a new and unique club in conjunction with other eating places throughout the nation.

Fathers who take their families to dine at Hotel Bothwell become charter members in the Greatest Guy in the World Club. The fathers will receive an attractive certificate attesting patronage. Each child will receive a little gift to remember the occasion. The club is unique in that there are no dues, no regular meetings and no officers except Mr. Weaver who acts as secretary.

Mr. Weaver hopes to create sufficient interest in the club to justify opening the Ambassador Room on Sundays exclusively for members and their families. Periodically he plans to serve a dinner for members at bargain prices in appreciation of the support the club gets.

House Passes Four Bills; 10 Introduced

JEFFERSON CITY (U.S. House of Representatives) — The Missouri House rolled out four bills to send to the Senate and heard 10 new ones introduced in a brisk one-hour session today.

The first bill passed, introduced by Rep. Raymond B. Hopfinger (D) of St. Louis County, would allow St. Louis County taverns to stay open until 1:30 on Sunday mornings. There was little floor argument on the measure but the passage margin was the narrowest of the four, 85-37.

Other bills passed would:

Allow school boards in all counties to put idle funds, if any, on time deposit to draw interest. Some opponents feared this would result in the schools neglecting the children in favor of the savings, but the bill passed 130-2.

Transfer the duties of inspection and inventory of county property in counties of the third and fourth class from county judges to county clerks and give the clerks a $1,000 raise in third class counties and an $800 hike in fourth class counties. Deputies' salaries would be increased by $700 in third class counties and $500 in fourth class counties.

A series of probation and parole bills introduced today would "revise Missouri's archaic probation and parole system" according to the sponsor, Chalm H. Zimballist (D) of St. Louis County.

They would require the judge to make a pre-sentence investigation for first offenders, allow judges to assess installment-plan fines, set up the probation and parole board in a headquarters removed from any penal institution, raise the salaries of board members from $5,000 to $8,500 a year, and restore citizenship rights to parolees.

Other bills introduced would: Bring reciprocal, assessment and premium stock insurance companies under the 2 per cent sales tax on premiums now required of other companies.

Set up a five-man fire arbitration board to mediate disputes on wages, hours, etc. between fire departments and their communities.

Add three legal holidays for schools—Labor Day, Veterans Day and Memorial Day.

Take dump trucks out from under the jurisdiction of the public service commission.

A heavy day in the house yesterday was capped last night with a busy committee schedule.

One, the House Motor Vehicles and Traffic Committee, approved a speed law that would set minimum as well as maximum speed limits for highway travel. It would limit open-road speed to 70 mph on divided highways, 65 mph on other highways and 60 mph on all highways at night.

But it would also require that no driver move so slowly as to "impede or block the normal and reasonable movement of traffic."

The House passed without opposition yesterday a bill to increase old age pension maximums from $60 to $70 per month. This would cost an estimated $43 million a year, a boost of $15 over present costs.

Final passage was also given a new bill introduced yesterday by Rep. Thomas Walsh (D) of St. Louis, would set up a state director of labor at a salary of $12,000 a year to head a three-man labor and industrial relations committee.

Held for Alimony Payments to Wife

NEW YORK (U.S. judge says it's "cruel and inhuman" to keep a man in jail for 16 months for failure to make back alimony payments to his ex-wife.

This brought freedom yesterday to 32-year-old William Singer, who was jailed Oct. 25, 1956, on the complaint of his former wife Anna. She obtained a contempt of court citation against him for $1,400 in alimony arrears.

In ordering Singer freed, State Supreme Court Justice Owen McGovern said it was pointless to keep a man in jail so long in such a case. "Prolonged imprisonment for other than criminal acts has long been abhorrent to our society," the judge declared.

The judge told Singer he must start paying the original court-ordered payments of $12 weekly to his ex-wife. A nominal $4 payment, the judge ruled, will take care of the arrears because Singer already has paid the price in jail time.

Eden Has Attacks Of Fever On Voyage

LONDON (The Press Assn., said today former Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden has suffered two attacks of fever on his sea voyage to New Zealand.

Arrangements have been made for Sir Anthony to receive medical attention when he arrives in Auckland Feb. 21," the Press Assn. said.

Eden, 59, and his wife sailed for a holiday in New Zealand Jan. 18, less than two weeks after he resigned as prime minister because of ill health.

Miss Heerman Becomes Bride Of M. Brockman

Miss Geraldine Heerman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Heerman, and Marvin Brockman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Brockman, all of Concordia, were married Feb. 10 by the Rev. Dan E. Oberdieck, uncle of the bridegroom, at St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

Miss Lois Heikman played a prelude of wedding music as the guests were being seated and accompanied Mrs. Alma Reith as she sang "The Lord's Prayer".

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a gown of white lace over satin which lengthened into an aisle wide train. The fitted bodice buttoned down the back with tiny satin covered buttons and the long sleeves came to points over the hands. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a tiara of silk and seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of white lilies.

Mrs. Roy D. Oetting was her sister's only attendant. She wore a ballerina length gown of green net and lace over taffeta. She carried a bouquet of pink gladioli.

Marvin Flandermeyer served as best man and ushers were Roy D. Oetting and Ed Deppelman.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the VFW Hall for approximately 250 guests.

Mr. Brockman operates the Western Auto store in Concordia and Mrs. Brockman is employed at the Concordia Bank.

Mrs. Metheny Chosen 'Queen For a Day' At February Luncheon

The Whiteman Air Force Base Officers' Wives Club February luncheon proved a hug success as the result of the "Queen For a Day" program sponsored by the 340th Air Refueling Squadron wives.

Before the luncheon, each club member received an invitation to be filled out in limerick style as to why they wished to be chosen "Queen For a Day." and on the day of the luncheon the author of the best limerick was announced.

Mrs. Chris Metheny, wife of Lt. Col. F. W. Metheny, was pronounced "queen" for her winning limerick.

Prizes awarded her included an expense paid weekend with her husband at the Muehlebach Hotel, in Kansas City, compliments of the management, and many other articles donated by merchants of the communities surrounding the base including perfume, lamps, luggage, groceries, jewelry and certificates for free services.

The "queen" sat on a throne and was given the full royal treatment including a long red satin robe, a bejeweled crown and queen attendants.

Mrs. A. J. Beck and Mrs. Richard W. Kline, wives of the 340th Bomb wing squadron and base commander respectively, judged the limericks. And committee chairmen of the 340th Air Refueling Squadron were Mrs. A. J. Thompson Jr., and Mrs. J. M. Knotts.

YOUR EYES AND VISUAL FUNCTIONS

In the news a few days ago there appeared the story of an oil truck driver who misread the address of a home to which he was delivering a tank of fuel oil. Instead of connecting the hose with the intake pipe at 223 Thirty Fourth St. and delivering the oil into a tank, he connected it at 223 Thirty Fourth St. and poured 135 gallons of fuel oil into a newly decorated recreation room. A messy mistake—but no more serious than the mistakes that are being made daily by others who should be wearing the glasses they need to do the work of this modern world in which we live.

There are many places on this earth where it is the exception to the rule to see a person wearing a pair of glasses. The civilization is primitive. The people live and work just as their ancestors did a thousand years ago. Glasses are a badge of civilization. Their use is a mark of intelligence and goes hand in hand with education. Without glasses half of the world's work could not be done and modern civilization would be impossible.

The Missouri Optometric Association offers the following for consideration by employee and employer alike. The employee who needs glasses and is intelligent enough to wear them is likely to be a better adapted, more efficient person. His production record and his safety record on the average will be better. Moreover, his ability to learn and to achieve will be improved. The employer can likewise be helped by using the glasses he needs.

One word of warning must be sounded. Cheap, bargain priced glasses sold at sensational prices are not the answer. Vision is mind. Vision is intelligence. It is necessary to have your eyes carefully examined and your corrective lenses painstakingly fitted for your individual needs.

The Grand Jury Reports

"That old jail house of ours," is still with us.

Back in 1890 the Pettis County jail was growing old. Grand juries condemned it. In 1895 a spectacular escape, one of many to follow, left a murderer free. Editorially the Sedalia Democrat irately referred to the building as "the old rattle trap that is called a jail is unfit for the purposes for which it is used. Pettis County must have a new jail before the close of 1895."

During the intervening 62 years the old jail has had some interior decorating and other repairs.

But the 1957 grand jurors indicated they, too, had looked with jaundiced eyes upon the jail structure judging from this commentary in their report:

"For many years grand juries have recommended that Pettis County obtain new jail facilities. The condition of the jail has not improved since the last grand jury report (1949). The personnel is to be commended for the job they do with the facilities they have. The sanitation, wiring, etc., in the present building is deplorable and the building is a fire trap. There are no adequate facilities for the retention of women prisoners, juveniles, or persons of unsound mind. The grand jury recommends that the State Health Department inspect the facilities at the jail at regular intervals and we recommend the County Court extend its program of County building improvement to this property."

That one paragraph has the essence of an indictment. Other reports have been similarly phrased, but the 1957 jury used strong language, referring to the county building as a fire trap. In this connection the jail is probably more of a menace to inmates than to surrounding property—yet there is a hazard to the latter, also.

Sanitation conditions in the present building are so deplorable the jurors were impelled to make a pointed recommendation that the State Health Department inspect the facilities at regular intervals. Protocol may indicate the Pettis County Court could extend an invitation to the Health Department to take a look?

Phraseology of the grand jury concerning the building itself was handled gingerly, recommending "that the County Court extend its program of county building improvement to this property." That could mean a new jail building, or repairs to the old structure depending on how persons of divergent views may want to interpret it.

Redecorating and other improvements to the Court House were so outstanding that the County Court was commended. This coincides with the favorable comments in recent months by taxpayers. The County fire station was found in excellent condition except for one item—a smelly drain which won't take much effort to fix.

Buena Vista Home which houses old people of the county community was found by the jurors to be in good condition. However, an exception was taken to the water supply. This evidently is a reference not to purity but quantity in case of peak load or emergency requirements. If the condition is rectified this will likely mean drilling of a new well and providing additional pumping equipment.

In view of the Warrenton holocaust in which 71 lives were lost, there is renewed demand for revaluation of adequate fire protection facilities in homes for aged persons, public or private.

Although the grand jury did not return any criminal indictments, the recommendations on behalf of matters relating to public health and safety are worthy of consideration. The report is brief in content but this does not signify the jurors were inactive. On the contrary they spent many hours conducting investigations and questioning 28 witnesses, sacrificing time from their regular occupations to perform a duty of citizenship.

The 1957 grand jury's report will be only as effective as the manner in which it may not be ignored by both public officials and the public.

Americans Appear Walking Sticky Path

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—The American efforts to get some peace and quiet in the Middle East are proceeding like a man walking down a freshly tarred street on a hot day. Every time he takes a step, he's stuck.

Egyptian President Nasser is the biggest problem in the Middle East. But Israel is a problem too. Nasser can't be tackled until there is some solution in Israel. The Israeli problem shows no sign of being cleared up soon.

But when it is, if it is, the United States and the United Nations will probably have their hands full with Nasser. Meanwhile, Nasser, keeping his mouth shut, can sit back and enjoy watching the world sweat over Israel.

Until Israel attacked Egypt and seized the Gaza Strip and the Aqaba Gulf area, Nasser had used the former for raids on Israel and the latter for blockading Israeli shipping.

The United States requested, and the U.N. demanded, that Israel pull back its troops. Israel in effect says: "Nothing doing, until you guarantee us Nasser can't renew his raids and his blockades."

Neither the United States nor the U.N. has given such guarantees. For the United States there is an awkward double dilemma in handling both Israel and Nasser.

This country's two biggest allies, Britain and France, agree with Israel that Nasser is a menace. Further, this country has a Middle Eastern friend in Israel which it helped create in the first place.

So it can't afford to go too far

Looking Backward...

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
Heber U. Hunt, superintendent of Sedalia schools, and Paul Grigsby, principal of Smith-Cotton High School, left for Washington, D.C., to attend a meeting of the Department of Superintendents of the National Educational Association.

1932
Cline B. Fennell and Miss Rose Waddell were speakers before the Kiwanis Club on welfare work.

1932

1932
Charles M. Howell, Kansas City, candidate for nomination on the Democrat ticket for United States senator, was here in interest of his candidacy.

FORTY YEARS AGO
John W. Hicks, Jr., general manager of Kansas City headquarters of the General Film Co., was here for a visit with relatives.

1917
Ord Wood left Sunday for Pittsburg, Kan., to take up duties as manager of a new tailoring establishment.

1917
H. R. Davis, Kansas City, succeeded H. R. Camp as manager of the Arlington pharmacy.

1917
C. E. Andrews, formerly in the real estate business here, residing in Florida, spent Sunday here visiting friends.

— or at least it doesn't seem likely to — in doing anything, such as joining other U.N. members in imposing sanctions on Israel, that would hurt Israel too much or alienate the British and French.

At the same time, at this moment when the Eisenhower administration is trying to get Congress to approve its Middle Eastern plan for making the Arabs friendly, it doesn't want to offend the Moslem world by being too easy on Israel.

But the United States may find itself in a reverse dilemma the moment Israel — for whatever the reason — agrees to pull her troops out of territory claimed by Egypt.

Then Nasser has to be handled. The administration for some strange reason always seemed to have an optimistic feeling about dealing with Nasser — until he seized the Suez Canal last summer and refused to let go.

It may still have that feeling. But Nasser has never shown signs of being a man who could be depended upon to do business along a single, straight line for any length of time.

Problem No. 1 in dealing with Nasser — from the Western viewpoint — is how to keep him from closing the Suez Canal any time he pleases or using a threat of closing it to blackmail the West into meeting his demands.

Thus the United States somehow will have to try to get along with Nasser since to be too tough with him might cancel out the efforts of the Eisenhower administration to get started on its new program of making friends with Arabs.

But there is a limit on how many concessions this country can make to Nasser without becoming a laughing-stock to the rest of the world.

A solution of the Israeli problem would have one advantage for the United States.

If Nasser then kept on acting as a tough guy, it would be apparent not only to everyone outside the Middle East but also to his Arab neighbors who stand to benefit from the new Eisenhower program of economic aid for them.

Dr. Jordan Says

Caution Needed With Many Chemicals Found In Home

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.

The problem of poisoning by chemicals is receiving increased attention.

The Committee on Toxicology of the American Medical Association has estimated that there are about a quarter of a million brand-named chemical products which may be used in the home, in farming and in industry.

Most of these are useful — or they wouldn't be employed. But their potential dangers, when improperly used, are still poorly understood. There are an estimated 3,900 accidental deaths from poison each year from misuse of chemicals.

Perhaps the most widely used chemicals around the home are the cleaning fluids. These are of several varieties and chemical compositions, but virtually all of them are poisonous if swallowed (and therefore should be put out of the reach of children). Most of them have other potentially dangerous effects.

Certainly anyone who uses such preparations should carefully read the directions on the label and follow these with great care.

One of the chemicals contained in many of these cleaning solutions is carbon tetrachloride.

Several years ago a report was published from the Marine Hospital in Staten Island, New York, dealing with some 12 cases of carbon tetrachloride poisoning. Two of the seamen involved had been cleaning their clothes with carbon tetrachloride 12 hours before the development of their symptoms of nausea, vomiting and diarrhea. Another man had been painting a room in his house, using carbon tetrachloride to thin the paint.

In another report the following statement was made: "Dry cleaning fluids and stain removers are very common household poisons. . . cases of poisoning result both from the inhalation of vapors as well as from swallowing. Some time ago we examined the body of a woman who had cleaned a dress with carbon tetrachloride in the bathroom, a small space without ventilation. She succumbed to the fumes of this compound."

Some of the cleaning fluids, while they do not contain poisonous chemicals of this kind, may catch fire easily. It has been reported that about 200 people are killed and 1,000 seriously injured every year from such burns.

In order to avoid the danger from fumes, cleaning jobs should be done outdoors.

It has also been recommended that cleaning with inflammable fluids should be done on moist, cloudy days, and that the container of the fluid should be kept on the ground in order to avoid any sparks from static electricity.

It seems obvious that a person using a cleaning fluid which might possibly catch fire should also be extremely careful not to light matches nor to smoke anywhere near the fluid.

The motto for household chemicals should be: CAUTION!

Actress, Millionaire Husband Separate

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actress Sara Shane says that she and her husband, William Hollingsworth Jr., millionaire Los Angeles real estate man and social figure, have separated after 7½ years of marriage. "There's not much I can say about it at this time," the blonde actress said. "I just told Bill that I wanted a divorce." She and Hollingsworth have a son, Jamie, 5.

Icebreaker Trapped

TOKYO (AP)—The 2,400-ton Japanese icebreaker Soya Maru is trapped in antarctic ice and may have to spend the winter off the South Polar continent. The ship has 119 crewmen and scientists aboard — and a year's provisions.

The Soya Maru landed 11 scientists to spend the winter on Ongul Island, off Antarctica's Prince Harald Coast, as part of the International Geophysical Year program.

Capt. Manji Matsumoto radioed Tokyo that it currently freezing weather in the area did not ease, his ship would not be able to break free of the hardening South Polar icecap.

Which Ike Is Ike?

Conservative Tag Stands; He May Be Just Craftier

By Joseph A. Dear

Of Our Washington Bureau
WASHINGTON — This is the capital of paradox.

Example: Liberals bitterly complain that Ike talks a good fight, but never follows through. The implication is that he's just as conservative as the other mastodons, only craftier.

The conservatives are complaining too. And about Ike's economic liberalism. Treasury Secretary George Humphrey, so-called strong man of the Cabinet, warns of a hair-curling depression unless federal expenditures are cut. And it's Ike's budget he's talking about. Commerce Secretary Sinclair Weeks, another cabinet conservative, says there won't be wage and price controls; this the day after Ike said there might be.

Question: Which Ike is Ike? Another example: "Isolationist" House Republicans voted against Ike's Middle East plan because in approving it, Congress would be compromising its Constitutional authority to declare war.

Several "internationalist" Senate Democrats are against the plan, too. Let Senator J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) tell you why: "If you are going to delegate your power to declare war, how can you conscientiously deny a request for a delegation of less important powers?"

Question: Since the isolationists and the internationalists have achieved fundamental agreement on this issue, why don't they organize their own political party?

Agriculture Secretary Ezra Benson is an astute practitioner of the art of divide and conquer. Or maybe it's just that the "farm bloc" in Congress prefers to hang separately.

Farmers Union, which is very much for 90 per cent price supports, notes that more than one third of the votes cast against drought aid came from Congressmen representing districts where dairying is a major economic interest. Dairy farmers are hoping Benson will give his nod to a slight boost in supports.

Whether they'll get an assist from Benson is problematical. Last year Benson successfully wooed the cotton twosome of Mississippi Senators Eastland and Stennis. The result of their defection was a 45-45 tie vote on supporting wheat at 90 per cent parity. Vice President Nixon broke the tie and the amendment lowering supports on wheat carried.

The point is that Benson reportedly agreed to concessions favorable to cotton farmers in return for the votes of the Mississippi Senators. There were no concessions.

Brief book review: Latest volume on the farm problem comes from the pen of Ladd Haystead. It's "The Farmer and his Customers" (University of Oklahoma Press).

The author says a better grasp of the farmers' plight by city folk is essential. He points up the fact that the farmer gets only a fraction of the dollar the consumer shells out.

The solution? There are too many farmers, he writes. He apparently foresees an era of corporate farming. A General Farm Corporation, organized along the lines of General Motors. The free man, independent on his own acres, he writes, was a wonderful dream. "Now it belongs to history and the poets."

Haystead is probably right in stressing the need for better public relations work by farm groups.

The city cousin will find it difficult to appreciate the merit of the soil bank program once the critics really get going. For example, about 300 farmers are collecting government checks for not growing anything in one big Kansas county.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.

Calories are little units of heat or energy which we cannot see or feel. If they are not used in the body they are stored away in globules of fat which stick to our bones and make us obese.

Most people who count their food calories do so because they do not want to be overweight. They do not want to be unattractive to their fellowmen. They do not want to overtax their hearts. They do not want to be physically uncomfortable.

When we give so much attention to these tiny units of energy we ought to give us much of our thinking to the unseen, and unmeasured influences which detract from, or add to, our spiritual attractiveness and comfort. Our souls cannot reflect the presence of God when we are mean, or critical or suspicious.

We cannot be at ease with ourselves if we do not have an adequate religious intake, and we do not use our spiritual energies.

Accident Toll Saves Others From Disease

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Lives lost by accidents are saving lives threatened by disease in an all-out campaign by Philadelphia surgeons, a heart association and the city morgue.

The program provides for taking vital blood vessels—the aorta near the heart and long arteries of the legs—from fatal accident victims and using them to repair vessels of seriously ill persons.

Improved medical techniques have created a large demand for the blood vessels. The Heart Assn. of Southeastern Pennsylvania co-operating with Dr. Joseph W. Spelman, city medical examiner, has announced they will seek to reclaim every healthy aorta and long leg artery from persons meeting accidental death in the city.

The city morgue is the only logical source of supply for the blood vessels, according to Dr. Orville Horwitz, assistant professor of clinical medicine at the University of Pennsylvania and chairman of the heart association committee for reclaiming arteries. "Healthy people meet death only accidentally," said Dr. Horwitz. "We must have healthy grafts—grafts from women under 40 and men under 35."

"The reason for the age difference," he explained, "is that women's blood vessels retain their resiliency longer than men's."

The campaign will need the co-operation of a fourth group—the bereaved families of the accident victims.

"We have had very few refusals," said Dr. Spelman. "Families of the victims are very understanding even under the stress of their own misfortune."

William Shakespeare died at the age of 52.

Thought for Today—

But he, being full of compassion, forgave their iniquity, and destroyed them not; yea, many a time turned he his anger away, and did not stir up all his wrath.—Psalms 78:38.

No Public Airport Begun In Four Years

A survey just completed by the Missouri Division of Resources and Development aviation section reveals that not one new publicly owned airport has been opened in the state in the past four years.

Dale Fearn, chief of the aviation section, also stated that only 96 airports are now open to public use within the state boundaries, and, of these, 43 are privately owned and may be closed to the public at any time.

"This danger is apparent," Fearn said, "when we note that nine such fields were closed last year. The cost of maintenance, taxes and insurance is too high for one individual to carry on a public facility benefiting an entire community."

Actually, there are, at present, more than 7,000 public use airports in the United States. Proportionate to its population and area, Missouri's share would be 172.

This national figure is expected to reach 10,000 in a few years, "but we cannot expect to be a part of this growth without a concentrated effort at both state and community levels," Fearn warned.

A state's growth and progress, he explained, are dependent on its transportation system.

Missouri had a natural advantage in location as a distribution center and industrial area during the early days because of the rivers and the first railroads leading west. Today, Missourians point to a splendid highway system.

"But," Fearn admonished, "airport facilities to serve the newest form of transportation are woefully inadequate."

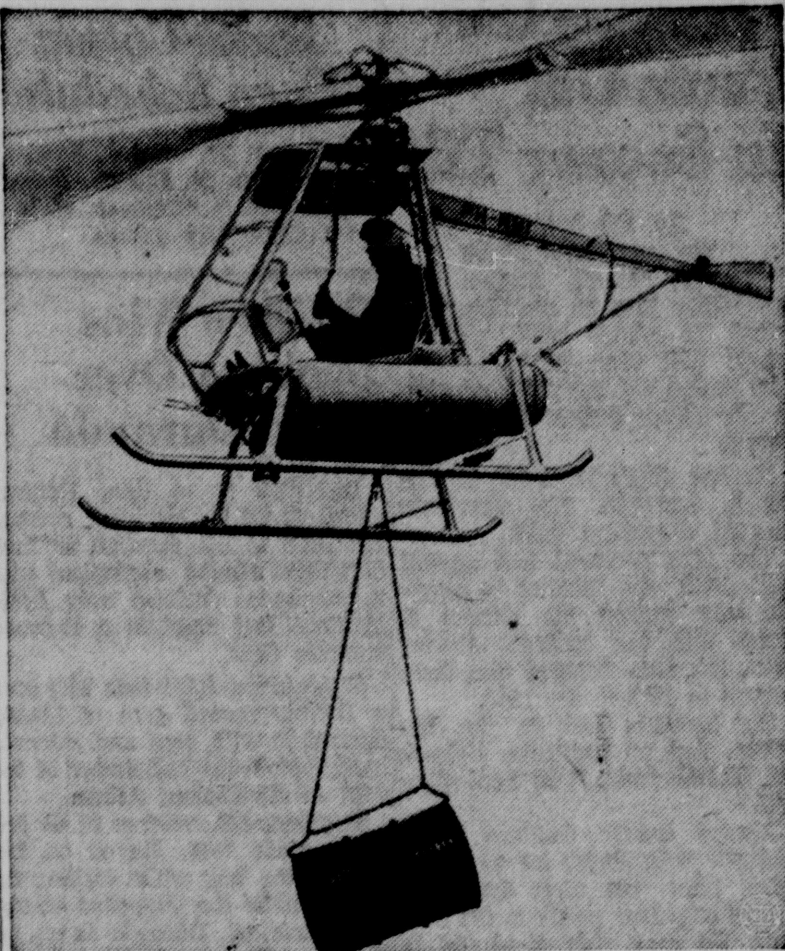

The aviation section pointed out that industry and business have taken to the air in large numbers. Today, 90 of the 100 largest U.S. industries operate their own aircraft and the total business fleet now exceeds 20,000 planes.

This was more than 15 times the total domestic airliners and during 1955 business aircraft flew over 1,000,000 hours more than the airlines. The size of the business fleet is growing rapidly—indicated by a 49 per cent increase in civil aircraft production between 1955 and 1956.

"If Missouri and its communities are to continue to attract business and industry," Fearn said, "they must provide landing facilities for access to the air ocean on which these people travel."

The aviation section of the Division of Resources and Development provides technical assistance for community airport planning, but no state funds are presently available for financial aid.

DUTCH TREAT FOR FARMERS—Netherlands engineers have designed this small helicopter for use as an aerial beast of burden on the farm. Weighing 450 pounds, it's powered by ram jet engines at the tip ends of the rotors and uses low-cost kerosene for fuel. Frame is of tubular metal, and the chopper has four fuel tanks. Said to be so stable that it maintains flight position with operator's hands off the controls, the only "luxury" touch on the machine is a windscreen.

In Library Reading Room

Several New Books Added To Garden Club Center

Some of the best-known and loved mystery and detective writers of the day are represented by their new spring books at the Sedalia Public Library. Rex Stout, Leslie Charteris, George Harmon Cox and many others have new "who-done-its" that will be most welcome to their fans.

In the newest full-length Nero Wolfe novel, "Might As Well Be Dead," crime ranges from embezzlement through murder to a great national scandal. Nero, Archie and various of Nero's other assistants become deeply involved in both peril and the scandal. Nero never had to think faster, Archie never had to act faster than in this latest from the mystery master, Rex Stout.

Six new international escapades are full of sport, fun and danger for the Saint in "The Saint Around the World," by Leslie Charteris. This book is a Crime Club selection.

George Harmon Cox's stories of Trinidad and British Guiana have long been popular for their tropical color and authenticity as well as for their top-notch pace and excitement, superior plotting and characterization. "Man on a Rope," the newest by Cox, is a tense story of hot diamonds and hot money and of a man's attempt to clear himself of circumstantial evidence.

The newest Red Badge detective story is "The Floods of Fear" by John and Ward Hawkins, and concerns Donovan, murderer and life-terminator, who escapes from the penitentiary and sets out on an expedition of revenge.

Other excellent new mysteries are: "A Matter of Fact" by Herbert Brean, a man-hunt story that has been compared favorably with "The Desperate Hours;" "Angel's Ransom" by David Dodge, a suspense novel of robbery, violence and romance in Monaco by the author of "To Catch a Thief;" and "The Velvet Target" by Genevieve Holden, another Crime Club selection, about a "damsel in distress."

Robert Harling's "The Enormous Shadow" besides being a very exciting novel, is as immediate as newspaper headlines. It concerns a mathematician working with top-secret atomic-powered guided missiles.

County Chapter Red Cross Board Holds Meeting

A board meeting of the Pettis County Chapter, American Red Cross, was held at the office Thursday morning with 15 members attending. Routine business was taken care of and a number of reports were given. Rev. Thomas W. Croxton was appointed chairman of the nominating committee and will report at the next regular meeting. A report was given on the Disaster Meeting which was held the week of Jan. 14.

Philip McLaughlin, regional fund vice-chairman for seven counties, conducted a meeting, with representatives from these chapters attending, at the Evangelical and Reformed Church on Jan. 23. A letter was received after this meeting from Miss Dorothy Staley, field representative from area office, complimenting our chapter on the splendid cooperation shown when called upon for help.

Mrs. J. W. Maunders has been appointed a representative from Pettis County to serve on the coordinating committee at Whiteman Air Force Base.

Arthur Bethke and Michael Wolfel are conducting a course in Junior Red Cross First Aid at the St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

Pupils at Broadway School made most attractive Valentine trays for the patients in Whiteman Air Force Base Hospital.

A Gray Lady training class was held Thursday at the Service Club, Whiteman Air Force Base, with ladies from Johnson and Pettis Counties attending. These ladies will serve at the base hospital.

Bartlett Brothers Meet In Far East

John R. "Bob" Bartlett, electrician's mate First Class, stationed aboard the heavy cruiser USS Bremerton and Donald E. "Doc" Bartlett, hospitalman third class, stationed aboard the tanker USS Chemung, who are both on duty in the Far East met recently and spent a day together. This is the third trip to the Far East for Bob and the second for "Doc". Bob expects to be discharged this spring and Doc will receive his discharge in early summer. They are sons of Mrs. Grace Bartlett, 644 East Broadway.

IN TRAINING — Lawrence Adams, son of Mrs. Frank Adams, 1305 East Third, is in basic training at Ft. Leonard Wood after enlisting Jan. 8 in the Army. He was graduated from Smith-Cotton High School in May, 1956.

Average of Four From Each Town

An average of four persons will represent each town attending the Community Development Workshop Feb. 20 in Warrensburg. E. V. Fryhoff, manager of the Warrensburg Chamber of Commerce, announced today. Two Sedalians, Vernon Rodick, Chamber of Commerce president, and Jack Faber, Chamber secretary-manager, will participate in the program.

A tabulation of advance registrations received so far shows that 30 per cent of the towns are sending four men, while the number of towns sending two, three and six persons total 20 per cent for each number, Fryhoff said.

Fryhoff indicated that registrations would be allowed at the college if the 200 limit was not reached by advance registration.

The purpose of the workshop, the chamber executive pointed out, is to bring civic leaders together to discuss their mutual problems and hear some solutions which have resulted in the past. In order to accomplish this most effectively, a unique "revolving panel" method will be employed, rotating the panels among small groups of community leaders, so that everyone has a chance to get help on his particular problem.

The one-day clinic is jointly sponsored by Central Missouri State College and the Division of Resources and Development, with the

Troop 54 Holds Court of Honor On Wednesday

Boy Scout Troop 54 held their Court of Honor last Wednesday evening at the First Methodist Church. The Court was in charge of Frank Hanigan, committee chairman, who introduced the institutional representative, Addison Taylor, Jr.

Other members of the committee introduced were Dr. Kenneth Snyder, advancement; Vernon Rodick, outdoor director; Emmis Sutherland, treasurer; Cecil Ravenscraft, Philip Hoffman, and Charles Maggard. Paul Mowry, Scout Master, and Gerald Cecil, assistant Scout Master, were also introduced. Each scout and his parents were presented to the congregation.

Dr. Snyder gave an inspirational talk before he presented the awards to the boys. The impressive Scout ceremony was held in recognition and in honor of the following boys who were advanced in rank: Bill Rucker to Second Class Scout, Jerry Wilson to First Class Scout, and to Ronald Dager, Jimmy Gardner, Gary Wahrenbrock, John Farlow, and James Hausam who were advanced to Star Scouts.

Merit badges were presented to the following: Mike Hanigan, forestry, cooking, home repairs, citizenship in the nation, citizenship in the home, camping, canoeing, life saving, swimming; Jimmy Gardner, first aid, safety, swimming, personal fitness, scholarship, reading; John Hausam, citizenship in the home, home repair, radio, cycling, citizenship in the nation; Kit Taylor, canoeing, cooking; Gary Wahrenbrock, first aid, swimming, canoeing, life saving, safety, personal fitness; Ronald Dager, safety, canoeing, first aid, personal fitness; James Hausam, cycling, home repair, public health, personal fitness, safety, first aid; John Farlow, personal fitness, home repair, first aid, safety, public health; Jerry Wilson, personal fitness, swimming, safety, public health, first aid.

Three Teams Into Quarterfinals Of Smithton Class 'S' Tourney

Victories to Green Ridge, Deepwater and Lincoln On Monday; 3 Games Tonight

Green Ridge, Deepwater and Lincoln jockeyed into quarterfinal positions with victories in the opening night of State Class "S" Regional basketball at Smithton Monday night. Climax Springs, Hughesville and Otterville were the victims.

In the tournament opener, Green Ridge staged a last quarter rally that carried them from a six-point deficit at the three-quarter mark to a 61-57 win.

Heading up the individual scoring was Smith of Climax Springs who poured in 28 points toward a losing cause. Tops for the victors was Bullard with 20.

Victory Over DeMarco Gives Reidl Boost

NEW YORK (AP)—Stefan Reidl, an unbeaten welter of German-Hungarian background, has moved into the main event class with a victory over Paddy DeMarco, former lightweight champ. Reidl, born in Hungary but raised in Stuttgart, Germany, came to America a year ago. He gave up his career as a carpenter to devote his time to the ring.

The import, winner of 12 straight, went 10 rounds for the first time last night at St. Nicholas Arena. He won going away on a unanimous ballot. Referee Larry Napp scored it 8-1-1, Judge Joe Eppy 7-3 and Judge Frank Fulemar 6-4. Reidl weighed 142 to DeMarco's 144½ pounds.

Former Coach Scouts For Pro-Football Team

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Lynn O. (Pappy) Waldorf today embarks on a new football job, that of scouting collegiate material for the professional San Francisco 49ers.

Waldorf, who retired as head coach of the University of California last fall after 10 years at the helm, answered the question of whether he would remain in the game with the announcement of the new position.

Officially he'll be director of personnel for the 49ers with his principal duty to scout the college ranks for prospective pro players.

After the 49ers announced they had hired the hefty 54-year-old Waldorf on a full-time basis, he said that in addition to the scouting he would "do anything else that the organization wants me to."

Tar Heels Stay In Lead Spot Of Cage Teams

By BEN OLAN
The Associated Press
Undefeated North Carolina held fast to its lead in the Associated Press weekly college basketball poll today. But once-beaten Kansas is making a closer race of it.

Impressed by the Tar Heels' 20-0 record, 55 of the 89 sports writers and sportscasters who participated in the poll put UNC on top. North Carolina drew 806 points on the usual basis of 10 for first place, 9 for second, etc. Kansas collected 17 "firsts" and 756 points.

The Tar Heels fattened their victory total last week against Virginia 68-59 and Wake Forest 72-69. The Jayhawks who trailed North Carolina by 90 points in last week's poll, boosted their mark to 17-1 with a 76-56 triumph over Oklahoma last night.

The next four places remained the same. Kentucky was third with 474 points followed by Seattle, Bradley and Southern Methodist. Louisville, in seventh place, switched positions with UCLA.

Iowa State remained in the No. 9 spot while Vanderbilt, tied for 18th last week, moved into 10th place, replacing West Virginia.

Vanderbilt knocked off Tulane and Tennessee in last week's games, but lost to Kentucky 80-78 last night for a 15-5 record.

The top 10, with first-place votes in parentheses:

1. North Carolina (55).....806
 2. Kansas (17).....756
 3. Kentucky (2).....474
 4. Seattle (4).....401
 5. Bradley (5).....387
 6. Southern Methodist.....341
 7. Louisville (2).....289
 8. UCLA.....238
 9. Iowa State.....130
 10. Vanderbilt.....99
- The second 10, in order:
Indiana, Wake Forest, Oklahoma City, West Virginia, California, Duke, Kansas State, West Virginia Tech, Mississippi State and Memphis State.

Tipton Is Site Of 'M' Regional Cage Tourney

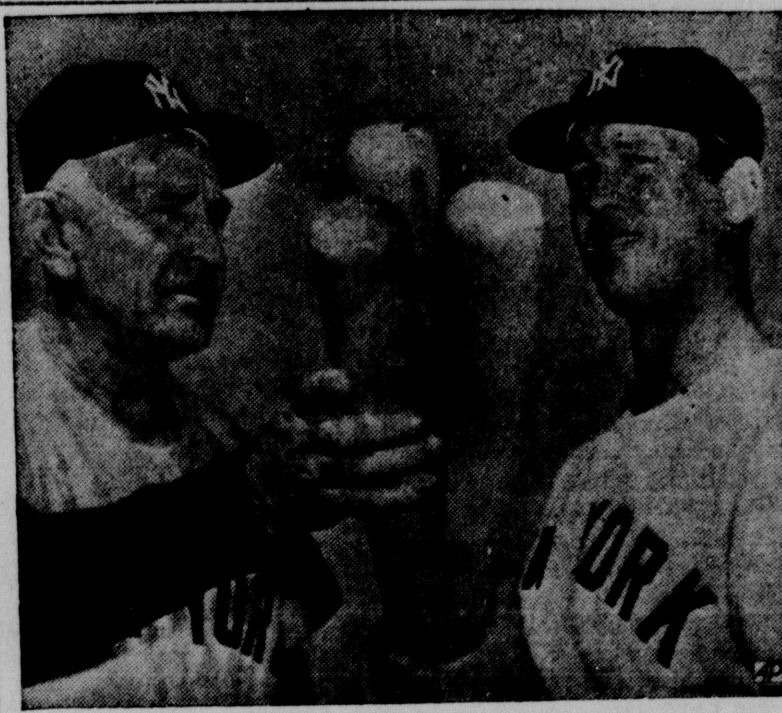

The Class "M" Regional tournament for this area will be played at the Tipton high school starting Feb. 25 through March 2. Seventeen teams have been entered in the tournament.

Three games will be played Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday; on Thursday four games will be played. Friday and Saturday the semifinals and finals will be played.

The first three starts are scheduled for 6:30 p.m., 8:00 p.m., and 9:30 p.m. On Thursday, game times are 5 o'clock, 6:30, 8:00, and 9:30. On the two last nights the games start at 7 o'clock and 8:30.

The seeded teams in order are: Brunswick, Tipton, Northwestern, Mendon, Versailles, California, Ashland, Cole Camp, and New Franklin.

Other teams are: Glasgow, Salisbury, Huntsville, Stover, Sweet Springs, Carrollton, Slater, Keytesville and Fayette.

EXTRA POWER ALWAYS NEEDED—New York Yankee Manager Casey Stengel feels bat held by hard hitting rookie first baseman Marv Thorneberry after his arrival at an instructional camp for Yankees at St. Petersburg, Fla. By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP) — How many hours a day do you watch television?
Most people confess they have not the vaguest idea.
Merle S. Jones, President of CBS television, told the Minneapolis Advertising Club:
"Last year, for example, the set in the average television home was turned on for an average of five hours per day throughout the entire year. As our research department keeps reminding me, that is more time than America spends doing anything else except working and sleeping."
Does the figure sound incredible?
Well, CBS obtained it by computing the average viewing hours over a year's period as recorded by the A. C. Nielsen Co., the audience rating agency. And Nielsen says it clocked viewing hours in "well over 900 television homes" throughout the country. On this basis, said a spokesman, it is possible to project viewing activities in 39,300,000 TV homes. Those who maintain this is too small a basis for such a big generalization must pause momentarily, however. Can you cite statistics in a larger number of homes than the Nielsen Co.? No, you cannot. You are simply left, like this department, with a vague mistrust that 39,300,000 home television sets are turned on five hours a day every day of the year.

UN Showdown On Israel Is Postponed

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — With a General Assembly showdown on sanctions against Israel again postponed, U.S. representatives at the U.N. today pressed intensive efforts to find a solution to the Middle East deadlock.

Rapidly moving events centering on the Israeli-Egyptian dispute brought the successful U.S. move for putting off the Assembly debate until Thursday. It had been scheduled to resume today.

Linked with the U.S. move to delay Assembly action were:

1. The desire to give Israel more time to reconsider its stand against pulling its troops out of territory formerly controlled by Egypt.

2. Israeli Ambassador Abba Eban's hurried trip to Jerusalem today for consultations with his government.

3. President Eisenhower's decision to cut short his Georgia vacation and return to Washington for conferences on the problem.

4. Mounting U. S. congressional pressure against the move to invoke sanctions against Israel.

Sources close to the U. S. delegation said the Americans wanted a chance to reappraise their position, but it was not clear what stand the United States intends to take if Israel continues to refuse to get its troops out of the Gaza Strip and Egyptian territory along the Gulf of Aqaba coast.

The move for sanctions against Israel is led by the 27-nation Asian-African nation group, which declares that anything other than immediate and complete withdrawal of Israeli troops would reward aggression. The Asian-African nations had called a meeting last night to draw up a resolution demanding sanctions, but they called it off when it was learned the Assembly session had been postponed.

The U.N. repeatedly has called on Israel to withdraw from the Gaza Strip and the Sharm el Sheikh area, at the entrance to the Gulf of Aqaba. The Israelis have refused unless guaranteed navigation rights in the gulf and suppression of Gaza-based raids. The Israelis seized both areas in their October-November invasion of Egypt.

Secretary of State Dulles said Feb. 15 the United States would have to give "serious consideration" to sanctions against Israel if the U.N. asked for them, and Eisenhower said Sunday Israel already has received "the maximum assurance it can reasonably expect at this juncture."

Comics Win Honors Using Tear Glands

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Ed Wynn and Red Skelton, who have made a lifetime career of taking comic pratfalls, turned to tear production this season and won themselves nominations for television Emmies.

The nomination of the two famous comics highlighted the television nomination ceremony Saturday night of the Television Academy of Arts and Sciences. Nominees were announced in 29 acting and technical categories, with the winners to be selected March 16.

Wynn's nomination for best supporting actor and Skelton's for best single performance were 2 of 13 nominations won by Playhouse 90, the CBS-TV weekly dramatic series which swept the nominations.

"It's like being a doctor for 50 years and then winning your first case in court," Wynn commented. His role as the trainer in "Requiem for a Heavyweight" was his first serious one in 55 years of show business.

Ed has a logical reason for his switch from comedy to serious drama.

"I just couldn't get work as a comic. And when a fellow's out of work it's easy to act serious."

Skelton portrayed a comic on the skids to place him in the field with such strong dramatic competitors as Fredric March, Lloyd Bridges, Sal Mineo and Jack Palance.

Among other nominees to become early favorites: John Daly, who covered the political conventions with more attention to news than electronics and won a nomination in the news-gathering category.

Nanette Fabray, no longer (Sid) Caesar's "wife," but nominated anyway as best comedienne.

James (Gunsmoke) Arness and Hugh (Wyatt Earp) O'Brien, expected to have a showdown fight for best series actor.

Evelyn Rudie, the child actress who played "Eloise" on Playhouse 90.

Jack Benny, whose recent 39th anniversary of his 39th birthday was celebrated by the Friars' Club at $100 a plate, for best comedian.

Jane Wyman, already a movie Oscar winner, for best series actress.

"Requiem for a Heavyweight," for best single program of the year.

Northerly Winds Blow Arctic Air to Large Sections of Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Northerly winds blew fresh arctic air into wide portions of the mid-continent today while fairly mild winter weather prevailed in most of the Eastern areas.

The icy air from Canada moved southward and extended over the upper and middle Mississippi Valley and parts of the western Great Lakes region. Temperatures were as much as 20 degrees lower than 24 hours ago as far south as southwestern Missouri.

Minnesota and northern Wisconsin were the coldest spots, with readings below zero in many sections.

The warming trend in the East extended from Ohio southward to Alabama and from parts of southern New England southward to northern Florida.

Swedish Actress Dies

STOCKHOLM (AP)—Marta Toren, 31, beautiful Swedish stage and screen actress, died today of a rare brain disease which sent her to the hospital less than 48 hours ago.

The actress had been unconscious since she was brought to the hospital Sunday night after performing in a stage play at the Alle Theater.

Her doctor said she was suffering from subarachnoid hemorrhage a disease he said "can strike persons of all ages without warning."

Miss Toren was the wife of an Italian director and film writer, Leonardo Bercovicchi. They have a 4-year-old daughter.

The actress went to the United States in 1947 with a seven-year contract. After playing 11 films, she returned to Europe to make films in Spain and Italy. Mostly she lived in Rome, where she was one of Ingrid Bergman's closest friends.

Crews Search Fire Rubble For Victims

WARRENTON, Mo. (AP)—Searchers dug into debris again today for more bodies of the 71 aged and infirm who perished Sunday in a swift and still puzzling fire.

Before darkness halted them yesterday, search crews extracted 43 charred bodies from the rubble of the Katie Jane Memorial Home.

The National Fire Protection Assn. said it was the worst nursing home fire in the country's history, surpassing 33 deaths in a fire near Largo, Fla., March 29, 1953.

Capt. C. R. Oliver of the state highway patrol listed three possible causes: a mechanical difficulty — possibly defective wiring or a gas line break, a careless smoker, or arson.

Oliver expressed belief the double-pine flooring of the home, treated for years with oil and covered more recently with tarpaper and asphalt, fed the spreading flames.

Gov. James T. Blair, in a dramatic personal appeal before the Senate Public Health and Welfare Committee, asked the Legislature to act speedily on a bill to tighten Missouri's nursing home laws.

The committee approved a measure giving the State Health Division more power to inspect and regulate nursing homes.

Two inspectors of the State Department of Health and Welfare checked the Katie Jane home Thursday and recommended an electrician have a look at its wiring.

The home's state license was withheld pending compliance with the suggestions. Dr. James R.

Former Senate Dean Undergoes Surgery

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—K. D. McKellar, 88, one-time dean of the U.S. Senate, was in "serious" condition at Methodist Hospital today after surgery to remove duodenal ulcers.

The operation was performed yesterday when the former senator went into shock from loss of blood through internal hemorrhaging. He was reported to have withstood two hours of surgery "remarkably well."

McKellar, beaten in a bid for an unprecedented seventh six-year term in the 1952 Tennessee Democratic primary, was admitted to the hospital Friday after fainting in his hotel suite.

Amos, director of the State Health Department, said he thought it could have complied with license requirements otherwise.

Asks Legal Holiday

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine), the only woman senator, asked Congress today to legalize Father's Day. She said failure to do so is "the most grievous insult imaginable" to the nation's fathers.

POWER...to cut time costs every trip!

New DODGE PowerGiants

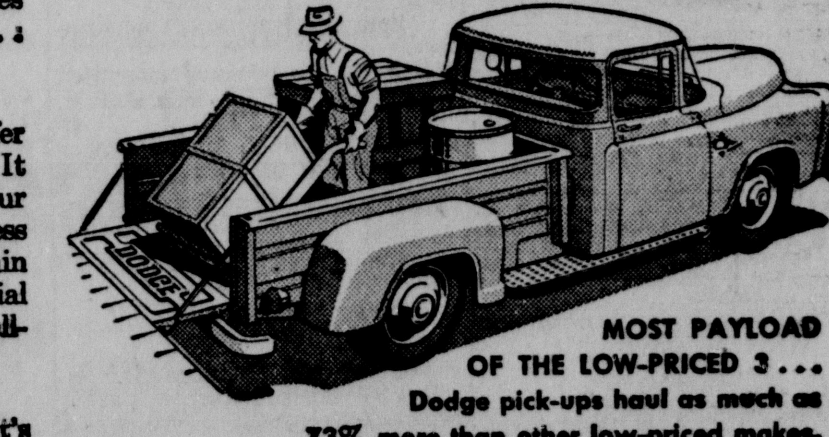

MOST POWER OF THE Low-Priced 3

You get a power reserve in a Dodge Power Giant that pays off every mile you drive. From 204-hp. pick-ups to giant 232-hp. tandems, Dodge gives you the most power of the low-priced three... actually as much as 31% more.

Extra power means faster acceleration, safer passing... cuts your time costs every trip. It cuts operating costs, too, because it lets your Dodge engine loaf under loads that make less powerful engines whine with strain. Less strain means less wear, fewer repairs. And the special design of these Power Giant V-8's delivers full-powered performance on regular gas.

More power lets you haul bigger loads. That's why Dodge can offer bigger payload capacities in every weight class. For instance, the Dodge 300 pick-up packs up to 7½ more payload each trip than comparable competitive makes. And that's the kind of payload advantage that many times means one trip instead of two.

Dodge is the easiest handling truck on the road — with the shortest turning radius for easier parking and quicker zip-in-and-out maneuverability. Power steering is available for most models. And, for the first time on any truck, Dodge offers the extra convenience of a push-button* automatic transmission for the easiest driving ever.

MOST PAYLOAD OF THE LOW-PRICED 3...
Dodge pick-ups haul as much as 73% more than other low-priced makes.

Combine all these features with smart new Forward Look styling and comfort-designed cabs and you've plenty of reason to take a good look at a Dodge. Why not do it soon? You'll find your Dodge dealer's deal will help you decide on a new Dodge Power Giant right now!

*Available on all low-tonnage and Forward-Control models.

Not Knowing Basic Safety Rules Fatal

Lack of knowledge of the basic rules of highway safety and driving regulations were responsible last year for nearly two-thirds of the failures in the driver examinations given by the Missouri Highway Patrol.

The Patrol gave tests to 355,123 persons, most of whom were new and inexperienced drivers. Many of those who failed, however, passed on a second attempt.

Among the 100,993 persons who failed 64 per cent could not pass the written examination which is based on the Missouri Driver's Guide containing a summary of the driver regulations and cardinal rules of highway safety.

Runner-up to the number of failures on the written test were 34,386 who could not qualify on the actual driving test. Poor vision accounted for only two per cent of the failures.

Most of the tests were administered to new drivers while nearly one-fourth were taken by drivers whose licenses had expired. Out-of-state applicants and persons cited by the Director of Revenue made up the remainder of those taking the examination.

According to Col. Hugh H. Waggoner, superintendent of the Patrol, bad habits of the old driver and the inexperience of the new driver were to blame for most of the failures in the actual road tests.

"Some veteran drivers have developed bad habits over the years and when they take the test the hardened habits don't leave them. With new drivers, in most cases, lack of experience on the road, the newness of the situation causes failures," the Colonel said, adding that many of the failures could be attributed to nervousness under test conditions.

"We are not trying to truck the driver on the examination. The questions are straightforward and not intended to 'throw' those taking the test. As for the road test, we require a basic knowledge of good driving practices," he said. Waggoner said knowledge of the Missouri Driver's Guide is essential to safe driving and is necessary for the written test. "A driver who is unfamiliar of the guide's rules and regulations could be a dangerous driver," the Patrol Head noted.

The guide is available without cost at any examining station or the office of the Department of Revenue.

Sign-up Delay Could Cause Disappointment

The farmer who delays signing up for the Conservation Reserve program on the assumption that he will build up his "base acreage" before signing a contract may be disappointed. The caution comes from C. A. Staples, chairman of the Pettis Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

In explanation, chairman Staples, points out that total funds available for the program each year of its operation are limited. At the start each farmer receives a payment for establishing a cover on the designated land. Then each year during the period of the contract the farmer receives an annual payment, which, for the country as a whole, averages about $10 an acre. As more farmers sign contracts, a greater share of total available funds will go to make annual payments and less will be available for payments on new contracts. Which may mean that fewer farmers in 1958 than in 1957 and still fewer in 1959 than in 1958.

Another point which farmers should have in mind, the Chairman explains, is that the buildup of crop history for the Conservation Reserve is slow. The base for determining the reduction of land producing crops on a farm is the average from 1955 to the year in which the contract is signed. Each year an additional year becomes a part of the average used in establishing the Soil Bank base acreage for a farm.

In general, Chairman Staples points out, the farmer can get little if any advantage by delay in signing up in the Conservation Reserve and he is running the risk of specific disadvantages. He urges careful consideration of all points by farmers before they make their decisions.

4-H Woodwork Class Meets at Dabner Home

The Striped College 4-H Woodwork Class met Thursday and Friday evenings, 7 to 10 p.m. at the home of the leaders, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Dabner.

Lessons were given both evenings on how to make a bill of materials, how to take dents out of wood and members practiced how to use simple tools. Donald Shirley and William Finley were present to help the leaders with younger members as junior leader work.

The remainder of the evening was spent in working on projects, after which refreshments were served.

The 4-H dramatics committee consisting of William Finley, Irene Shipley, Mrs. Lester Patrick, Mrs. Hubert Finley, Mrs. Ted Dabner also met Friday evening at the Dabner home. A play was selected for the Dramatics Festival and it was decided to have a try out for the parts for all the 4-H members Sunday afternoon at the school house.

Sacred Heart Mothers Club Holds Meeting; Juniors Give Dance

By Phyllis Aggeler
At the junior class meeting Monday morning, last minute details were arranged for the Valentine Dance which it sponsored Saturday night from 8 to 11 in the Sacred Heart gym. The music was furnished by record and the admission price included refreshments.

The Federal Constitution test was given recently to all those high school students who had not previously taken it. These students were, for the most part, Freshmen. The Glee Club, under the direction of Sister Everdis, entertained the Mother's Club recently at its monthly meeting in the school cafeteria. Included in the program were "Stodola Pompa," "You'll Never Walk Alone" and "He."

At present the Glee Club is in the midst of preparation for the Marshall Music Contest and the Spring Concert, which is to be held on April 29.

The Spectrum staff is putting the finishing touches on the annual and if all goes as expected, the annuals will be ready for distribution about May 1.

Legislators Pass Judge Ouster Bill

ATLANTA (AP)—A resolution calling for impeachment of six and sent to the Senate despite a member's protest that "we're making ourselves ridiculous before the world."

It was approved yesterday by a slim margin of four votes, with 57 members not voting. The roll call count was 107 to 33. A constitutional majority of 103 was necessary for passage.

The resolution, drafted by Atty. Gen. Eugene Cook, charged "high crimes and misdemeanors" to Chief Justice Earl Warren and Associate Justices Black, Douglas, Reed, Frankfurter and Clark.

Rep. Raymond Reed spoke out against what he called "a far-fetched resolution" based on "unreasonable, unfounded evidence."

"We're making ourselves ridiculous before the world," he said. "What better way could we serve the Communist press than to throw out such a resolution as this, based on unwarranted and unfounded charges."

The resolution made several charges based mainly on rulings in sedition and segregation cases. It would have the Georgia General Assembly declare that the six justices "are guilty of attempting to subvert the Constitution of the United States, and of high crimes and misdemeanors in office, and of giving aid or comfort to the enemies of the United States."

It also would ask other states to pass similar resolutions and call on the Georgia members of the U.S. House of Representatives to begin impeachment proceedings.

Rep. Colbert Hawkins, administration floor leader, speaking for the resolution, said, "The time has come when we in the South in our righteous indignation and under our right as free people should memorialize Congress and ask the impeachment of these members of the Supreme Court."

Asked why only six justices were named in the resolution, Rep. Charles Gowen explained that the sedition decision was a 6-3 decision and that the resolution was aimed against those six.

Farmers Should Still Have Names Listed

Although the original allocation of funds to Pettis County for payments to farmers taking part in the 1957 Corn Acreage Reserve program has been obligated, farmers who want to participate in the program should make sure their names are listed by the Pettis County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, Chairman Staples stated.

There is a possibility that additional money, unused by other counties and states, for the Corn Acreage Reserve program may be reallocated to Pettis County. If this happens, agreements will be signed with farmers in the order in which they are listed by the ASC committee, Staples said.

Under the Corn Acreage Reserve program, funds are allocated to every corn allotment county in the United States. County ASC committees accept applications for Corn Acreage Reserve agreements, within initial maximum acreage limitations, on a "first-come, first-served" basis to the extent these funds last. If the funds allocated to a county are used up before the end of the sign-up period, the county ASC office lists those farmers who make an application before the sign-up deadline, but who are too late to get in under the original fund allocation. Then, if more money becomes available through the reallocation of money unused in other counties or other states, agreements will be accepted from those listed in the order in which their agreements were received to the extent that funds are available.

Farmers who indicated to the county ASC committee that they would like to put more than the initial maximum limit of land in the Corn Acreage Reserve when they signed their original agreement, will be notified if sufficient money is available to take up the additional land, Chairman Staples added.

Senator Wants Funds For Trapping Pigeons

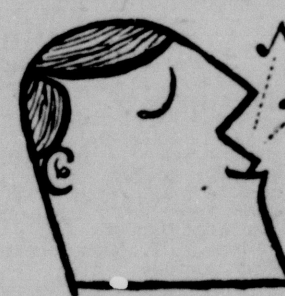

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State Sen. Robert R. Shaw, Columbus Republican, is sick and tired of the pigeons in the state capitol yard.

He and his friends, Shaw told newsmen, are disturbed at the endless prospect of being "target for tonight"—every night.

He asked the Ohio legislature for a $1,500 appropriation to trap and destroy every pigeon indiscreet enough to set foot in the statehouse yard.

"The only opposition I have run into so far," Shaw quipped, "is from the dry cleaners."

Letter Carrier Wives Send Valentines To Melita Day Nursery

The children at the Melita Day Nursery had something a little different this year for Valentine's Day. Valentines through the mail. When someone called Mrs. Lucy Rabourn, superintendent of the nursery, and asked what the Ladies Auxiliary of the Letter Carriers might do for the youngsters for Valentine's Day, Mrs. Rabourn gave them the names of the children and asked them to send Valentines through the mail. That was just what they did and it was an exciting time when the postman came that day with a big stack of Valentines and the youngsters could hardly wait as each name was read off and there was their very own Valentine that came through the mail addressed to them.

Then, of course, there was a Valentine party, with the tables decorated with hearts, cupid and other things in keeping with the theme of the day. The refreshments for the party consisted of ice cream and cookies, pretty Valentine cookies made in heart shape and iced with pink or white and
